THE MESSAGE.

New Message of the President Cleveland-Tariff, Finance, Hawaii and Brazil the Topics.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—The white House will probably see very little of President Cleveland between now and Monday, December 4. Most of the intervening time will be spent at Woodley in the preparation of his annual message. The president thinks he can devote more time to his message than in the executive office, for though many senators and representatives have left the city, enough remain behind to make the pressure upon him for the numerous important offices still sufficient something to be avoided as far as possible.

Nearly all the cabinet officers are well advanced with their reports, which will form the basis of the recommendations in dealing with department matters. It is understood that each officer in turn will probably be a guest at Woodley. Secretary Carlisle has already had one whole day at Woodley, and many evening consultations. Postmaster General Bissell frequently drives out there in the pleasant evenings, and Col. Lambert is a constant visitor.

State department matters this year will be of unusual interest. A. C. McLaughlin, as they will, the Hawaiian policy of the administration, of which it is confidently expected, some authentic announcement will be made for the information of the general public and also of the stirring incidents in Brazilian waters.

Finances will necessarily come next.—The tariff first, of course. Mr. Carlisle has been endeavoring in every brief respite that the silver has given him to get into form a tabulation of facts and recommendations to be handed by the president on this topic. After that will necessarily follow the president's recommendations, which he is presently preparing in his special message to the extra session, as to that "other legislative action" which may be necessary to "put beyond all doubt or mistake the intention and the ability of the government to fulfill its pecuniary obligations in money universally recognized by all civilized countries."

The recommendations as to the army and navy, the complicated affairs of the interior department and the post office and agricultural departments will have been largely foreshadowed in the executive report of the heads of bureaus in those great executive offices.

AN OUTLINE.

Of the Wilson Tariff Bill, Which is Now Ready to be Taken Up by the Senate.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—With the exception of a few details, the tariff bill is ready. It cuts considerably. While yet its details are a mystery, the report is that it provides for free raw materials that is free wool, free coal, free iron ore and free lumber.

Although the bill has been prepared in the excitement of the silver struggle, the president has given it close attention. Monday he read the rough draft of the printed bill, and had Chairman Wilson, of the ways and means committee, in long and close consultation.

To meet the curtailed revenues there is more than the probability that the tariff will be raised to meet the deficit in the treasury and the general outline of the tariff measure.

However, secretly the ways and means committee may conduct its business in the chamber of commerce, public to its conclusions has been assured by the adoption of Mr. Reed's amendment to the Catchings resolution authorizing the ways and means committee to file its bill and report with the clerk of the house during the house adjournment on December 4. If Mr. Catchings had been permitted to have his way the bill and report prepared by the majority of the committee would not have been revealed to the country until reported to the house. Nevertheless, the majority bill and report, when filed with the clerk, must be made known to the republican members of the committee, who will have ten days to prepare their minority report.

INDIAN LANDS SEIZED.

Lately to be Seized by the Whites Do Not Retire.

SPOKANE, Wash., Nov. 7.—Capt. Jesse Harford has just arrived in this city to receive the 300 rifle and ammunition for the settlers of Harford, Ind., the new town just within the border of Chief of the Indian reservation. Chief Wellshead notified all the white settlers to leave the reservation within three days or pay $500 each.

Wellhead and fifty policemen and many halfbreeds in the field, all well armed. Harford has eighty white men, poorly armed.

Farmers along the St. Joe valley have been shot in, and the settlers will refuse to go to the town. The Harford town is an Indian land. Last week a big crowd was held to purchase it. Chief Sattex offered to donate the townsite to the white settlers, but Wellshead and Bartholomew demanded $100,000. The offer was refused and the council disbanded. Two days later Wellshead sent an ultimatum demanding $50,000 for the privilege of staying there through the winter. He claims the government troops can not interfere, as he has the right to eject trespassers, and the settlers are preparing to defend themselves.

German Tobacco Tax.

Berlin, Nov. 7.—The provisions of the new tax law imposing taxes on tobacco, which is to be in force on January 1, has caused excitement throughout the empire, and especially in the southern provinces.

The imports are even higher than expected. There will be an import tax of forty marks on all tobaccos. In addition, tobacco which is to be manufactured into cigars will be taxed 400 marks. Cigarettes will pay 500 marks, and all other manufactured articles must bear a tax of 250 marks. The law is reckoned on 100,000,000 cigarettes.
